

COBER HILL

ACCESS STATEMENT

Built as a private residence in 1890, Cober Hill is located in the village of Cloughton, 6 miles north of Scarborough and 15 miles south of Whitby on the A171 Scarborough to Whitby road.

There are excellent road links from York and Leeds using the A64, to the A1 / M1 via the A64, to the M62 via Driffield and to Teesside and the North East using the A171.

Frequent rail services link Scarborough to York and Hull and there is a half hourly bus service between Scarborough and Cloughton.

For those travelling by rail, Stations Taxis, situated in the station forecourt have large taxis suitable for the disabled, and can be pre-booked to meet your train. Generally the journey to Cober Hill would be 15 to 20 minutes and the fare in the region of £9.00. Station Taxis can be contacted on 01723 366366.

ON ARRIVAL AT COBER HILL

There is ample private off road parking for all our guests. Two disabled car parking spaces are to be found outside the Reception main entrance.

There is an exterior ramp to the left hand side of the centred main entrance and access is available at all times.

We gladly offer assistance with luggage from guests' car to their room.

If using the |Joseph Rowntree Centre (JRC) car park, guests will note that this is mainly a small stone chipping surface. However, access to both doors of this building are paved and easily negotiated.

RECEPTION AREA

All floors and corridors are carpeted throughout and are suitable for wheelchairs.

The Reception area is on one level and assistance can be offered in registering and locating your accommodation.

PUBLIC AREAS

Ground floors in both Cober Hill and the adjacent JRC are carpeted or tiled throughout and are most accessible for wheelchairs. All lounges, the conservatory and JRC hall are ground floor rooms. Access to the Theatre is via the ramp and lower fire door to the rear of the building.

TOILETS

Designated and spacious unisex toilets are located in both buildings.

Other toilets are to be found on the ground floors but are of standard size and do not have direct wheelchair access.

BEDROOMS

Cober Hill has rooms, located in the JRC, that have modifications for the disabled. They are specifically designed for wheelchair access, with many facilities provided to ease your stay. Our staff will be happy to provide additional details on request. A modern stairlift provides access to the first floor in Cober Hill.

FIRE ALARMS

Fire alarms in both buildings are a very loud audible bell or siren.

A continual sounding if the alarm indicates immediate, safe evacuation of the building. The alarm will be silenced only when absolute safety has been established.

DINING ROOMS

The two dining rooms are to be found adjacent to the Reception desk. Access to both is through wide double doors to the spacious dining area.
